

A history of giving others a lift

Our church has a storied history of lifting people. We have launched groups and services such as the Faith Clinic, which was housed on site for two years before moving to a more equipped facility. We have provided community care including affordable childcare, housing men with substance abuse issues, and an annual Harvest Dinner to underserved community members each November. We have been the physical home to many community-based nonprofits such as JDAI and the C.H.O.I.C.E program.

Today's need to lift others

To continue our history of lifting people up, our facilities must be updated. Moving between floors and participating in our services is difficult if not impossible for disabled individuals. Participating fully in our services is limited by our current audio/visual technologies (in-house and online). The larger community that uses this space (for example, our 12+ sobriety programs that meet here weekly also needs to have easy access to all floors.
